Life and Works of Rizal Asst. Prof. Franz Jude Abelgas Dapitan, officially the City of Dapitan is a component city in the province of Zamboanga del Norte, Philippines.

“Shrine City in the Philippines.” Dapitan City lies on the Northern tip of Zamboanga del Norte and northwestern coast of the island of Mindanao.

It is a double wedge-shaped mass of land bounded on the north by the Sulu Sea and link on the south by the Municipalities of Mutia and La Libertad, on the east by the Municipalities of Sibutad and Rizal, on the west by Dipolog City and the Municipalities of Polanco, Sibutad, La Libertad and Rizal, all of the province of Zamboanga del Norte.

He is placed under the management of Captain Ricardo Carnicero Given the highest security to prevent escape Over time, however, Carnicero becomes amused and impressed by Rizal’s demeanor and they become friends.

He allows Rizal to roam freely around Dapitan with minimal supervision.

Rizal continues his work as a doctor in Dapitan Some residents give him agricultural products as payment for his services Josephine is the adoptive daughter of his patient named George Tauffer Josephine and Rizal quickly becomes comfortable with one another until the woman decides to stay with him all throughout their lives.

Rizal singlehandedly improves the life of the people in Dapitan while curing people, maintaining his connection with his international friends, and writing literature In infrastructure, Rizal creates a relief map, similar to the relief map found in the present day Luneta, of Mindanao in the plaza of Dapitan Rizal also taught the natives on how to create bricks, irrigation systems, and lamp posts Rhacophorus rizali

Apogonia rizali Draco Rizali Mi Retiro (“My Retreat”) is a poem that he wrote for his mother when they were in Dapitan A Ricardo Carnicero (“To Ricardo Carnicero”) is about his warden who later on became his friend.

When in exile, Rizal was met by Dr. Pio Valenzuela It is the time when secret plans for a national revolution is being made under the would-be Katipunan.

Rizal, contemplating on the severity of the situation, decides not to support the revolution for now because it is poorly planned and, for him, it deems to fail at that time.

Being a medical man by heart, Rizal wrote to Gov. Gen. Ramon Blanco regarding his intention to go to Cuba to help the doctors in the ongoing Cuban revolution.

His request is granted so he left Dapitan the day after it is approved, going to Manila on board the steamer Espana.

It is a teary goodbye for the people of Dapitan whom Rizal has served during his exile.

He leaves most of his possessions to his students and followers and promises to help them as much as he can when he reaches Cuba.

His guards and friar friends also bid him an emotional goodbye and wish him luck on his way to Cuba Upon arrival in Manila, he boards another boat now en route to Spain.

Life and Works of Rizal Asst. Prof. Franz Jude Abelgas 19th Century World 19th Century Philippines (Spanish Colonization)

Opium Wars between the British and the Chinese were fought due to problems in Chinese trade and international relations.

This led to the British gain of more power due to the defeat of China in the two wars. This also led to the Treaties of Nanjing and Tianjin which gave China a disadvantage over their British colonizers.

Hong Kong was seceded to the British and ports were forcibly opened to accommodate more foreign products in the country.

Japan is also suffering defeat under Commodore Matthew Perry and his gunboat diplomacy tactic. This made Japan open up its borders albeit their policy of Sakoku (self-imposed isolation from world trade) In other parts of Asia, the French had colonized Cambodia and the Indo-China area. Burma bowed down to Great Britain following the Burmese Wars from 1824-1886. The British also acquired Malaysia while the Dutch had Indonesia in their reign.

In France, the monarchy crumbled and was overthrown by the force of the people through the very famous French Revolution Napoleon Bonaparte started expanding the French empire across Asia and some parts of Europe In America, slavery has been abolished by President Abraham Lincoln which resulted into the split of the country into pro-slavery (the Confederates) and the anti-slavery (the Union).

This has been a major and the most talked-about event in American history, which also sparked the interest of Rizal.

In fact, one of the inspirations for his Noli Me Tangere was an American novel that tackled slavery in 1852: Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Across Europe, a wave of Enlightenment was making an appearance. This led to various important epochs in world history—the Scientific and Industrial Revolution.

On June 10, 1872, Rizal takes the entrance exam at Escuela Pia, the former name of Ateneo Municipal Don Francisco chooses Ateneo for its superior six-year bachelor of arts curriculum consisting of Spanish, Latin, Greek, and French languages, world geography, religion, geometry, trigonometry, physics, zoology, humanities, philosophy Rizal's reason in wanting to go to Ateneo is the school's reputation in treating each student as equals One thing that hinders Rizal from entering as a freshman in Ateneo is his small build.

He is almost ready to quit Ateneo if not for Manuel Xerex Burgos who makes sure that Rizal shall be given an exception because of his very good academic record Rizal manages to enroll under the name of "Jose Rizal" instead of "Jose Mercado". This is to draw attention away from him because of the land crisis that is happening back in their hometown, Calamba.

This is the classroom set up in Ateneo—the two opposing empires are the participants in the Punic Wars, a series of battles between Rome and Carthage due to the former's expansion as the Holy Roman Empire.

The Ateneans group the class into these two groups, with all students starting as flag bearers.

A student shall increase in rank for every correct answer.

Guided by Rizal's budding nationalistic tendencies, he is never contented with the education he receives in the Philippines.

As a lover of knowledge now out to help the country, Rizal is advised by Paciano to go overseas to learn more, to build himself more, and to be ready for the independence of their country.

If Rizal wants to change how education in the Philippines is, he needs to study how it is being done outside their colony.

Paciano urged him to go out of the country In order to keep Rizal safe, Paciano hides his travel plans to their family.

Aside from Paciano, who gives him 356 pesos as pocket money, their uncle Antonio and some Jesuit priests in the Ateneo (who gives Rizal a recommendation letter to get him in a European university) knew all about his travel abroad.

He leaves the Philippines on May 3, 1882 sailing for France.

Upon reaching Barcelona on June 16, 1882, Rizal was awestruck with the culture and the surroundings of Europe To him, Europe was the perfect example of how a territory must be run.

This was one of Rizal's poems about nature, as he was captivated by the beautiful and colorful flowers in Heidelberg that he sees while working Go to my native land, go, foreign flowers, Sown by the traveler on his way, And there, beneath its azure sky,

Where all my afflictions lie;

There from the weary pilgrim say What faith is his in that land of ours! Go there and tell how when the dawn, Her early light diffusing, Your petals first flung open wide; His steps beside chill Neckar drawn, You see him silent by your side Upon its Spring perennial musing,

Say how when morning's light, All your fragrance stealing, Whispers to you as in mirth, Playful songs of Love's delight,

He, too, murmurs his love's feeling In the tongue he learned at birth.

That when the sun of Koenigsthul's height Pours out its golden flood, And with its slowly warming light Gives life to vale and grove and wood,

He greets that sun, here only apraising, Which in his native land is at its zenith blazing.

Topic 1 of The Life and Works of Jose Rizal To know the historical background on why RA 1425 was passed To identify the features of the Rizal Law To realize the importance of how the law was passed and has undergone a difficult process.

To identify how certain personalities have contributed to Rizal law Who is Jose Rizal? Why study Rizal's life and works? After having a short introduction about Rizal and the reasons why we must study his life and works, we must now learn that the path towards the legislation of a bill mandating educational institutions to teach the life and works of Rizal traversed a difficult path.

But why should this be the case? A law mandating the inclusion of the life, works and writings of Dr. Jose Rizal in the curricula of all public and private educational institutions, particularly the Noli Me Tangere and El Filibusterismo.

This law was primarily sponsored by the anti-colonial Senator Claro Mayo Recto and supported by the former president of the Japanese puppet government, and during that time a senator and chairperson of the Senate Committee on Education, Jose P. Laurel.

Before the legislation of the Rizal Law, Senator Claro M. Recto submitted to the Senate Committee on Education the Senate Bill 438, entitled: "an Act to Include in the Curricula of All Public and Private Schools, Colleges and Universities courses on the Life, Works, and Writings of JOSE RIZAL, particularly his novels NOLI ME TANGERE and EL FILIBUSTERISMO, Authorizing the Printing and Distribution Thereof, and for Other Purposes.” This was afterwards introduced and supported by Senator Jose P. Laurel in his committee.

April 3, 1956 – submission of the bill April 17, 1956 – presentation and sponsorship of the bill The counterpart bill of Senate Bill 438 Submitted by Cong. Jacobo Z. Gonzales

At first both the Rizal bills had promoted the reading and study of the unexpurgated versions of Noli and Fili.

The bills both met contention from the Catholic Church.
